A NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

Sorry about the skimpy issue you now hold in your hands, but the holidays interfered with news gathering and writing. I promise the next newsletter will be much more substantial in terms of length and content, with articles on ABAG's AREA and BASIS environmental inventory/impact systems, Palo Alto's controversial inclusionary zoning law, and new planning programs in San Jose.

CONFERENCE CALENDAR

TIME MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP: January 23rd

This workshop is designed to cover hidden areas of time waste, psychological aspects in our use of time, methods for reducing procrastination and ways to handle external causes of time waste in our work environment. Participants will learn how to handle paperwork, block interruptions, manage meetings, and speed the decision-making process. The goal of the workshop is to gain maximum benefit from a minimum investment of time. The workshop will be lead by Odette Pollar, a specialist in time management and owner of the consulting firm TMS.

DATE: Saturday, January 23rd. TIME: 9 am to 3 pm. LOCATION: Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, Room 2007, San Francisco. FEE: $35 per participant, preregistration requested. Make checks payable to: TMS, 1773 28th Avenue, Oakland, 94601. For information call Odette Pollar (415/536-4044) or Dawn Mittleman (415/499-7395).

ENERGY AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS: February 3rd

Conducted by the Golden Gate Energy Center, this conference - entitled "Energy and Money" - will present practical solutions to the problem of heating public buildings such as camps, churches, and libraries. Sim Van der Ryn, UC Berkeley professor of Architect and former State Architect, will give a luncheon presentation on his design of the Gregory Bateson Building.

DATE: Wednesday, February 3rd. TIME: 8:15 am to 4:30 pm. LOCATION: Hyatt Regency, Embarcadero Center, San Francisco. FEE: $30 by February 1st or $35 at the door. For registration and additional information call Steve Mooney, Conference Coordinator, (415/332-8200).

NATIONAL LAND USE CONFERENCE: February 5th

Presented by the American Land Alliance and the California Coastal Council, this conference will present a discussion of the need for a new state and federal land policy. Speakers and panelists include congressman Pete McClosky, Assemblywomen Carol Hallett, Assemblyman Robert Naylor, State Senator Daniel Boatwright, and representatives of the Pacific Legal Foundation, the National Parks Advisory Board, the Land Policy Group, the Sagebrush Rebellion, and the American Land Alliance. Topics will include:

1. Proposals for return of land use decision making from state and federal agencies to local government.
2. Agricultural Preservation: Another Coastal Commission?
3. The new federal land use policy of the Reagan administration; legal and planning implications.
4. Off-shore oil drilling: The issues beneath the surface.
5. Economics of federal land use policies as it affects jobs, housing, and costs to the consumer.
6. How do we use 700 million acres of federal land: wilderness or multiple use?
7. Regulatory overkill and multiple agency jurisdiction.

DATE: Friday, February 5. TIME: 9 am to 4 pm. LOCATION: St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco. FEE: (includes luncheon): $40 per person before January 22, $55 per person after January 22. $320 for corporate tables (8 tickets with luncheon). Send check to: American Land Alliance, 1961 Landing Drive, Mountain View, 94043. For more information contact Dolores Gannon, (415/965-7240).
