

What Happens If I Miss My Frontier Flight?

Missing a flight can be stressful, and it raises an important question for travelers: What happens if I miss my Frontier flight? Frontier Airlines, as a budget airline, has specific policies regarding missed flights. Knowing these rules can help you minimize financial loss and find the best way forward. For immediate assistance, call Frontier at +1-877-622-0707.

Understanding Frontier's No-Show Policy

If you fail to board your scheduled Frontier flight without canceling or notifying the airline in advance, you are considered a no-show. In such cases, Frontier may cancel the remaining portions of your itinerary, and the value of your ticket may be forfeited. To avoid losing your ticket entirely, contact Frontier immediately at +1-877-622-0707 for guidance.

Options After Missing a Flight

Even if you miss your flight, you still have options:

1. Rescheduling – Many tickets allow rebooking for a later flight, although standard fares may require a change fee plus the fare difference. To explore available flights, call Frontier at +1-877-622-0707.
 2. Travel Credits – If your ticket is non-refundable, Frontier often issues travel credits that can be used for future bookings. These credits usually have expiration dates, so it's important to call +1-877-622-0707 as soon as possible.
 3. Emergency Exceptions – In rare situations such as medical emergencies or unavoidable delays, Frontier may waive fees. Proper documentation is usually required. Contact Frontier at +1-877-622-0707 to request a review.
